Carl (CJ) Sjulín is an Associate in the Corporate and Tax Groups.

CJ's practice focuses on structuring and analyzing transactions to maximize tax efficiency. He has experience in structuring transactions for various industries and clients including closely held businesses, real estate joint ventures, and private equity clients. CJ has specialized knowledge in domestic mergers and acquisitions involving tax-free reorganizations and high net worth liquidity event planning. CJ also has experience working with real estate partnership restructuring and section 1031 exchanges. This includes structuring transactions where some partners or members want to exchange separately, and other partners or members want to cash out. CJ's capabilities include, drafting partnership and operating agreements for real estate and corporate clients, drafting tax allocation provisions, waterfall distributions, buy-sell provisions, and conducting general corporate due diligence.

Prior to joining Greenberg Glusker, CJ worked as a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) at the largest Los Angeles based public accounting firm. While working as a CPA, CJ primarily specialized in tax planning for pass-thru businesses and high net worth individuals. Prior to that, CJ earned a Master of Business Taxation degree from the University of Southern California.

CJ enjoys playing golf and tennis in his spare time. In high school, CJ was a Nebraska class A state champion in tennis and golf.
