Jonathan Boustani is a skilled litigator who helps his clients resolve high-stakes business and real estate disputes.

Drawing on his extensive courtroom experience, Jonathan helps clients—ranging from individual investors and landlords to international companies—to protect their rights, interests, assets, and reputations, both in and out of court. Over his career, Jonathan has successfully litigated, arbitrated, and mediated disputes involving commercial and residential leases, real estate contracts, homeowners' associations, trade secrets, trademark infringement, consumer class actions, insurance recovery, creditors' rights, bankruptcy, and wrongful termination.

Jonathan is a pragmatic and detail-oriented attorney who clients can rely on to manage litigation efficiently, communicate effectively, and advance client objectives.

Prior to joining Greenberg Glusker, Jonathan was a partner at an Am Law 100 firm.
